YOUR VIEWS AND MINE!

A Weekly Column of Local Gossip

By "The Scott"

SIR WILLIAM HORNELL

Sir William Hornell who paid a flying visit to England during the University's summer vacation, returned to the Colony this week, looking as hale as ever. Speaking at the Rotary Club on Tuesday, Sir William told the members that things were "bucking up" at Home and what was more interesting, he added that class distinction were gradually wearing down. Sir William is very keen on the work of promoting friendship and understanding among the several communities in Hongkong. His interest in the Rotary Club is second only to his work at the University, and at both places he has sown the seed of international goodwill. Sir William was the Rotary Club's first President and it was thanks to his untiring energy that the club holds the position it now occupies in the life of the Colony. Professor Gerrard was another member of the University's staff who was at Home during the vacation, and it is interesting to add that he attended Sir Robert Ho Tung during the latter's recent illness in London.

HONG KONG'S KNIGHTS

When Sir Thomas Southern, Sir William Shenton and Sir Robert Ho Tung arrive back from abroad, Hongkong will have a total of seven knights. Sir William Hornell's return to the Colony brings the number now in the Colony to four the others being, His Excellency Sir William Peel, Sir Henry Pollock and Sir Shouson Chow. The departure on retirement of Sir Joseph Kemp deduced the number of Knights by one and it will be interesting to see which of Hongkong's residents will be the next to receive this honour.

BISHOP HALL

There was a very large gathering at St. John's Cathedral last Sunday to welcome Bishop Hall and to listen to the first of his series of sermons on "How to read the Bible." Bishop Hall's popularity in the Colony is not difficult to understand and he commands the respect and affection alike of the European and the Chinese communities. A Chinese admirer of Bishop Hall told me the other day that he found in the Bishop an earnest and devoted worker who radiates the practical idealism of his religion. Bishop Hall recently made a tour of China to get acquainted with the people to whose spiritual welfare he has dedicated his life.

WHERE IS THE RAIN?

The belief that a dry August will be followed by a wet September has so far been disproved; for September, this year has had as much sunshine as August, although more than once it looked as if rain would come. These were, however, no more than several insignificant showers. From to-day, the island population will be going on shorter water rations and until the rain comes there is no hope of any relaxation of the restrictions. In connection with the restrictions, a reader tells me that during the week, in a certain district near Happy Valley, after the water had been turned off in the morning, it was not turned on again that day, causing great inconvenience to the residents of the district concerned. It is possible the fault lay with the person entrusted with turning on the water at the main and, if this is so, one hopes he was adequately dealt with.

THE MUI TSAI PROBLEM

I understand from a reliable source that although the buying and selling of mui tsai is forbidden in the Colony, and those who keep mui tsai are required to register such girls, that a great deal of cruelty still goes on, little of which comes to the ears of the authorities. Perhaps the mentality of many Chinese women who keep mui tsai runs on the lines that cruelty to a slave girl is not really cruelty. Some of the things which mistresses are alleged to do to their charges are innumerable. But such reports seldom filter through to the ears of those who might be able to help the unfortunate victims. The Anti-Mui Tsai Society has done much to alleviate the condition of girls sold into domestic slavery, and are still exerting themselves unflinchingly on behalf of such girls. That their work is appreciated, not only by foreigners, but also by the Chinese community, is shown by the fact that an unending trail of complaints reach the society from week to week.

FINE

Yesterday's weather, report, forecast and remarks, issued by the Royal Observatory at 5.15 p.m., stated:—

Local forecast:—E. winds, moderate; fine.

CALENDAR MIX-UP

Owing to the intercalary (leap) 5th moon falling on the present Chinese Calendar year, the seasons, so far as the present Chinese year is concerned, have been thrown out and fallen behind. Such is the vagary of the lunar calendar. The Dragon Festival, falls on the fifth moon and as there were two fifth moons this year, the festival was observed only once. Had there been no leap month, the Moon Cake festival would have come and gone by now, but this year it does not fall due until October 4. For those not familiar with the lunar year, it is interesting to note that in order to make up the difference between the lunar and solar year, two intercalary moons occur in five years; or more correctly there are seven intercalary "moons" in every nineteen years. Setting this method of intercalation against our system of having one additional day in every four years, it is easy to see that there is less to be adjusted in solar than lunar chronology. The National Government of China is straining every effort to adopt the Gregorian calendar, but so far, tradition and legend have been difficult to overcome and the Chinese still think in terms of lunar months.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Most of the schoolboys and schoolgirls of Hongkong returned to their various schools and colleges during the week as September 5 having been the day fixed for the end of the summer holidays. Most of the schools are day schools but the few schools that take in boarders make life very much easier for them than is generally imagined. Holidays are long but there is about the assembling of school after breaking up, just as much excitement here as anywhere else in the world. Among Chinese boys the traditions of their country are remembered and the Chinese code of morals observed. (Continued at foot of next column)

HEATH FIRES IN ENGLAND

Many Beauty Sports Defaced

London, Sept. 7.
MANY beautiful stretches of country have been defaced by the disastrous heath fires which broke out in Surrey and Hampshire two days ago, and are still spreading.

Strenuous efforts are being made to keep the outbreaks under, by the digging of trenches and the employment of all available men in beating out the flames, but as fast as one blaze is subdued another breaks out elsewhere. Only a heavy downpour of rain will relieve the authorities of Surrey, Hampshire and Kent from strict vigilance.

Further fires broke out to-day in various parts of the Downs, and caused considerable damage.

The troops have given invaluable services in fighting the flames and both aeroplanes and wireless are being employed in keeping track of the outbreaks.—British Wireless.

Added to this they learn the lessons of civility and sportsmanship that the average European teacher instils into his charges, and one can understand why the schools in Hongkong are such valuable training grounds for the Chinese. FOR MOTORISTS*Features of the Radio
Exhibition

Costing £30,000 to erect, the National Radio Exhibition, at Olympia, London, is claimed to be the finest and most efficient one-industry fair that London has ever seen.

The Radio Manufacturers' Association, the responsible body, have insisted that each of the 321 stands in the trade sections should be chosen from six models designed by themselves in harmony with the blue and silver colour scheme and the architecture of the exhibition. No stand is more than 7 ft. high, so that the possibility of individual exhibitors dwarfing their competitors has been ruled out. The name on each stand can be seen from almost any point.

The exhibition is in three sections—manufacturing, Post Office, and B.B.C. The chief attraction which the B.B.C. offers is a theatre seating nearly 3000 people, at which there will be continuous performances. Many radio stars will be seen for the first time in the flesh by a big audience.

In the Post Office wing the mysteries of long-distance wireless telephony will be revealed to the public, who will be taken behind the scenes in every Post Office department affected by radio.

Manufacturers offer television sets for the man in the street at economic prices ranging from £12, and there are motor car receivers which can be switched on while the car is running. These car sets, hitherto sold only by American makers, are comparatively expensive, but are claimed to give perfect reception.

Miniature Battery Factory.

An enterprising effort to get away from the shop window aspect of trade shows is being made at the exhibition by Vinea Dry Batteries, Ltd., by setting up a miniature factory giving a full view of the process of manufacture of their patent high tension anti torch batteries.

Five of the machine units of the factory have been transferred for the nonce to Olympia, one producing the depolarisation element for each battery with a compound of five chemicals, the second coating it with muslin, the third capping it with brass, the fourth scalding and fluxing it, and the fifth filling it with electrolyte.

HYDROGENATION OF COAL*"Gigantic Technical Achievement"

The World Petroleum Congress organized by the Institution of Petroleum Technologists, held its first sessions recently at the Imperial College of Science and Technology, South Kensington.

More than 1,000 members, a hundred official foreign delegates, and a number of guests of honour, including the diplomatic representatives of the countries principally interested, are concerned in the Congress, over which Mr. T. Dewhurst, the Chief Geologist of the Burmah Oil Company, is presiding. Yesterday there were some 700 persons taking an active part in the technical discussions; before the Congress ends Tuesday evening 236 papers are to be discussed, and 77 of these were read or presented yesterday.

The congress is divided into three sections and a number of subsections. The Geological Section, under the chairmanship of Professor V. C. Illing, devoted the day to "The Geological Significance of the regional distribution of Oilfields." In the Production Section, with Mr. C. Dalley as chairman, more than a dozen papers covered the field of drilling, including pressure drilling, while the Refining, Chemical, and Testing Section divided off under various chairmen to discuss the general problems of viscosity, gum content in gasoline, bituminous emulsions, bituminous materials, and hydrogenation. These subsections absorbed the bulk of the day's papers and also the bulk of the congress. The Hydrogenation Subsection alone, under the chairmanship of Dr. F. Bergius, the research chemist and Nobel Prize-man, with Dr. A. E. Dunstan, the chief chemist of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company, as the general reporter in charge of the proceedings, attracted an audience of over 200, and there was an overflow of would-be listeners, who could not be accommodated.

Dr. Dunstan, introducing the speakers, remarked that Great Britain was so far only a small-scale producer of mineral oil, through the distillation of shales, and the whole British Empire yielded only a trivial percentage of the petroleum of the world; yet financially and technically this country had great influence in the industry. He welcomed Dr. Bergius (who gave a historical account of hydrogenation research during the past 25 years) and paid tribute to him as "the artist, the visionary, the man of imaginations, who could see that solid coal could only attain its maximum use when fluidified." He referred to the presence of Mr. K. Gordon, of Imperial Chemical Industries, as particularly apposite now that the gigantic technical achievement of this company in liquefying coal and producing from this intricate and somewhat unpromising organic material a series of pure hydrocarbons had ended in the protection of this nascent enterprise by the British Government's guaranteed preference.

Mr. Gordon, in his paper, remarked that hydrogenation in England had from the beginning been primarily concerned with bituminous coal and the by-products of coal distillation. From a position of relying on imported knowledge those in this country had advanced during the last decade to being the authorities on the production of hydrocarbon mixtures from bituminous coal, and the design of large scale plant to accomplish this production. The constitution of coal rendered its hydrogenation possible.

BUILDING MATERIALS CHEAPER*Canton Prices

Due to slow demand, the price of building materials has dropped this month. Bricks are now sold at $4.80 a hundred; flower floor tiles, $9.70 a hundred; single roof tiles, $2.50 a hundred; double roof tiles, $3.50 a hundred; and lime, $1.50 a piece. As regards timber, the price is one third lower than before. One bundle of plank measuring 18 ft. in length costs $4.70 and one bundle of middle size plank costs $3.00. Green Island cement is quoted at $9.20, while corrugated iron is $18 a piece.

HARNESSING THE DANUBE*Huge Power Scheme
For Central Europe

The rapids at the famous Iron Gates of the Danube and the less well-known but even more beautiful Kazan Gorge, some distance farther up stream, have always made navigation difficult; for the river, from a width of about a mile just below Belgrade, contracts in places to only 300 yards and achieves a speed of almost six yards a second.

In the Iron Gate itself the existing canal, which was built in 1893, is so narrow that only one string of barges can pass at a time, and special tugs have to be employed on account of the strength of the current.

Professor Vasilescu, of Bucharest University, has, after years of research, evolved a scheme which, it is hoped, will both increase the volume of traffic on the Danube and at the same time tap hitherto unexploited resources, by the building of four colossal power stations with an estimated total capacity of 734,000 h.p., at a total cost of sixteen million pounds.

It is proposed to dam and lock the river in two places, at Greben near the Kazan Gorge, and in the middle of the existing Iron Gates canal a few miles below Orsava. Each lock will be 330 yards long and 28 wide. Two power stations are to be erected at each site, the first pair to produce 350,000 and the second 404,000 h.p. The turbines will measure 25 feet in diameter and will each use 500 tons of water per second.

Group of Stations

This group of stations would from by far the most powerful hydro-electric unit in Europe, and it would also be one of the cheapest, the cost of construction being estimated at £20 per h.p., and the cost of power less than a farthing per kilowatt hour.

Special icebreakers will be provided to deal with the packs of ice which in recent winters have become so congested that the authorities have been compelled to break them up by shell fire from heavy artillery.

An integral part of the scheme, the cost of which is included in the general estimate, is a bridge over the Danube at the Iron Gates, which would carry a railway and two roads. Such a bridge has long been projected, and is in itself a crying need, as it would cut down the distance by rail from Belgrade to Bucharest by about 300 miles, the present only available routes involving a detour via Jimbolya and Subotica, or half the distance between Belgrade and Budapest, in order to arrive at Orsava.

Professor Vasilescu's plan does not count on the consumption of power in the two capitals, or in neighbouring countries, considering that it could all be utilised in the Yugoslav and Rumanian Banat for industrial.

Yugoslav engineers, however, possibly because their section of the Banat is almost entirely agricultural, seem inclined to recommend that the power should be made use of both abroad and in their own Morava valley, which is already partly industrialised.

WATER POWER IN SCOTLANDTummel Bridge Generating Station

The Grampian power scheme, which is connected to the grid system for central Scotland, may be divided into two portions. The first, which is now in operation, consists of the diversion of the flood waters of the river Tummel into Loch Fricht, and the utilisation of the waters of this loch to supply a power station at the western end of Loch Rannoch. The second portion, now under construction, utilises the water from Loch Rannoch for a new station at Tummel Bridge, to the west of Loch Tummel. It is with the latter scheme that we are more particularly concerned at the moment. The new power house will utilise the waters of Loch Rannoch, including the discharge from the Rannoch power house, and work includes the construction of a dam across the river Tummel to form an artificial reservoir 5 miles below the loch. From this reservoir the water will be carried in an open channel, and finally the pipe line, to the power house at Tummel Bridge. The equipment at this station will consist of two generating sets driven by turbines, each with a maximum output of 24,000 brake horse-power, under a net head of 180 ft. The machines have been manufactured to the order of Messrs. Balfour, Beatty and Company, Limited, and are now being installed. The order for the turbines, including the automatic governors, main valves, and Y-pipes, was placed with Messrs. Boving and Company, Limited, 28, Kingsway, W.C.2, who have been responsible for the design of all these items and supervised their manufacture by Messrs. Markham and Company, Limited, at Chesterfield, inspection on behalf of Messrs. Balfour, Beatty and Company, Limited, during the progress of manufacture was carried out by Messrs. Digby and Fairthorne, 6, Queen Anne's-gate, S.W.1.—Engineering.

The General Electric Company of New York calls our attention to the fact that it was in 1908 that two first boats, the Greame Stewart and the Joseph Medill, were placed in service by the city of Chicago. These vessels, which are still in commission, are both propelled by turbines driving the propellers through electric generators and motors, the fire pumps being connected to extensions of the generator shafts. In 1931 the U.S. cutter Jupiter was similarly equipped by the firm, this vessel being the forerunner of the six battleships and three airplane carriers of the United States fleet which are now operated in this way.—Engineering.

MACAO WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT

COMMERCIAL RELATIONS

FRANCO-PORTUGUESE

Attempts To End Tariff War

This matter is still occupying the attention of the Portuguese Government and, according to press reports, vigorous protests have been presented to the French Government by French merchants who are deeply affected by the present situation.

In Portugal the attitude of the French Government has been caustically criticized by the press, although the Portuguese Government has been extremely serene all through the discussion of this affair. It is noteworthy that following the Economic Conference in London, the Portuguese Foreign Minister, Dr. Caeiro da Matta was emphatically promised by representatives of the French Government that the matter would be decided as soon as possible on the best terms for both countries. However, up to the present moment it is still undecided to the serious detriment of Portuguese export business and prejudice to French importers.

The following notice to the Press issued by the Foreign Office on the 2nd of August is illustrative of the present situation.

Consequently the Portuguese Government besides protesting through its representative in Paris against this recent decree—about whose legitimacy it reserves opinion—assumes entire freedom of action on the matter, and notified yesterday the French Government of the denunciation of the "modus vivendi" of 1925, and the related agreements of 1911, 1922 and 1930. Thus the conventions which governed commerce between the two countries is revoked and the trade between them subjected to the system of maximum tariffs.

A Spirited Protest.
"The Portuguese Government thinks that it faithfully conveys the nation's feelings, which have repeatedly been hurt, by putting an end to a state of affairs which does not protect our interests or respect our sentiments. The Government, however, thinks that the cordial relations existing between the two countries will prevail over a wrong interpretation of interests and that the present denunciation far from increasing the difficulty of adopting a new agreement will contribute towards

Playing Field and Building of the Caixa Escolar

Following the denunciation by the Portuguese Government of the Covenant of July 8, 1932 between Portugal and France, the Portuguese Government notified the French Government that it would retaliate to any discriminatory measures that might be adopted against our products.

Consequently as soon as France applied a new surtax of 20 per cent. on Portuguese merchandise another surtax of 20 per cent. was imposed by the Portuguese Government on French goods.

"After these two Decrees had been published the Portuguese Foreign Minister heard from the French Premier and the Foreign Secretary the most expressive assurance of their conciliatory intentions and of their wish to find a satisfactory formula for an agreement. The Portuguese Government was awaiting the issue of a proposal on this line as suggested by the French Ministers, when it was caught by surprise with the news of a further surtax imposed by the French Government on the 29th of July against Portuguese liqueur wines.

"In view of this situation the Portuguese Government is firmly convinced that during the existence of the present conventions between the two countries no benefit is given to Portuguese trade.

conciliating the interests of the two friendly nations.

This shows clearly what we consider to be the wrong course taken by the French Government on this point, which has served to hamper the export trade of France. It will be of interest to know that French exports to Portugal are about 15 per cent. higher than Portuguese exports to France.

French interests are pressing the Government for an immediate and amicable settlement of the affair with the Portuguese Government which is evidenced by the following note from Marseilles dated the 4th inst:

"The Chamber of Commerce of Marseilles has represented to the French Government the necessity of entering into a new agreement with Portugal."

THE PRINCE'S LEAD

Spread Of Voluntary Service
A NATION-WIDE
MOVEMENT

Few speeches have had such far-reaching results as the Prince of Wales' broadcast appeal from the Albert Hall last year as patron of the National Council of Social Service.

"The spirit of voluntary service has been quickened throughout the length and breadth of the land," states the annual report of the Council. "In very many villages, and in almost every town, some fresh effort has been set on foot, something of practical value accomplished."

"At a time when many nations are seeking to solve their difficulties by placing increased reliance on central government and central control, it is significant that in this country one reaction to the national crisis should be a great revival of local enterprise and the spirit of self-help."

"That this is true is largely due to the lead which the Prince of Wales gave, and to the energy with which he has followed up his speech by visits of exploration to see what is being done, and by speeches, broadcasts, and personal interviews.
Not only the National Council, but the whole nation, owes a great debt to the Prince for his action in this matter."

700 Towns and Villages

The report records that, while a year ago only a very few local schemes had been started, by the end of March the Council was in touch with more than 700 towns and villages where an effort was being made to face the problem of unemployment, and that nearly a quarter of a million men and women were taking part in the resulting facilities.

The activities provided include craft work such as wood-work, painting, pottery, model and toy making, hand-weaving, tailoring and boot repairing; dramatic and musical work; and the study of subjects as widely separated as engineering and poetry.

The making of recreation grounds and playing fields has been undertaken, as well as that of swimming baths and children's paddling pools.
Detached land has been reclaimed, old buildings decorated, and new buildings constructed. Much of the furniture is often made by the men themselves, while tools and materials come from funds subscribed, or are presented.

In the country special attention has been paid to the provision of village halls. Some 220 schemes for the better use of existing halls or the provision of new ones have been carried through by the voluntary efforts of the villagers and the help of a loan from a fund administered by the Council and (in 181 cases) a grant from the Carnegie Trustees.
Since the first loan was made in 1925, the report records, every village has fulfilled its undertaking to repay. To ensure the best results the Council has been able to provide the help of both legal advisers and a panel of architects, who give their services freely.

With the growth of the Council's work it has been decided that a larger and more representative committee should be appointed, the first task of which will be to consider what further constitutional changes are desirable.

THREATENED WITH DEATH

Police Protection Given Jacob Factor

Chicago, Aug. 17.
Following a telephoned threat that they would "take" his life,
Jacob Factor, wanted in England in connection with frauds involving $1,500,000, is being given police protection against the gang which abducted him on July 1, and released him thirteen days later after he had paid a ransom of over $100,000.
The threat was made when the kidnappers learnt that the police were on their trail. Factor, who had promised to pay them a further ransom and to give no assistance to the police, is considered by the gang to have betrayed them.
"I am reluctant to assist the police," Factor told newspapermen to-day. "The kidnappers will think I have broken any word to pay them the balance of the ransom and shield them."
Repeated efforts to extradite Factor to England to face trial on the charges against him have failed.
Only a few days before he was released the British Embassy at Washington requested the State Department to watch events and keep them informed of all developments.

"BILLION DOLLAR
SCANDAL"Last Showing To-Day
At Queen's

"The Billion Dollar Scandal," which has been the attraction at the Queen's Theatre since Thursday is closing its engagement there to-day.

Robert Armstrong in the role of Fingers Patos heads the cast of featured players, including Constance Cummings, Olga Bacianova, Frank Morgan, James Gleason, Irving Pichel, Warren Hymer, Frank Albertson, Hale Hamilton, Dorothy Peterson, Ralf Harolde, Berton Churchill and Sidney Toler. These, under the direction of Harry Joe Brown, tell a story of melodramatic proportions.

The story deals with an expose of a big-money ring which has prepared to launch a nation-wide swindle. Fingers, masseur and gym teacher for a group of financiers and law-makers, overhears preparations for the swindle, and is persuaded by a powerful newspaper editor to talk for publication. As a result, Fingers becomes the man of the hour and the champion of the people, while his revelations lead to suicide and Atlanta for the swindlers.

"PEG O' MY HEART"Marion Davies' Outstanding Portrayal

As a play "Peg O' My Heart" is some twenty years old and yet on the talking screen it is brand new. The reason for this is in the apparent agelessness of the charming story. In the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature which opens to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre, Marion Davies breathes new life into the captivating character created in the theatre by Laurette Taylor.

In her deft hands, Peg seems to have a new personality and yet with it loses none of the crystal romance of the Irish gamine we knew so well on the stage. Miss Davies' performance is assuredly the best of many recent appearances. She has endowed her Peg with a finer understanding and sympathy that might be traceable to her own Irish ancestry.

Rich in Comedy
The comedy moments of the story abound in richness of dialogue and situations and the love theme, with Onslow Stevens as Sir Gerald, adds a poetic gentleness. The story of Peg is too well-known to dwell upon but comes upon the screen with a freshness that is delightful, stirring at the same time fond reminiscences of another day.

"DANGEROUSLY
YOURS"With An English
Heroine

Miriam Jordan, charming young English actress who has been making rapid strides forward in the motion picture industry since her recent screen debut in "8 Hours to Live," is a young lady of very decided ideas on certain subjects.

"There is, for example, the question of clothes. She refuses to be a slave to fashion and follow the current modes. Rather, she prefers to create styles which she believes are particularly suited to her figure and personality, whether they happen to conform to what the modistes say is the "dernier cri" or not.

"I believe in being individual," she says, "and no woman can be individual of she lets someone else make up her mind for her about what she should wear. A woman's clothes should express her personality, and it always has seemed rather silly to me that because someone says that puffed sleeves, for instance, are 'the thing' that every woman should rush down and get puffed sleeves whether they are becoming to her or not."

Miss Jordan wears a number of stunning gowns in her latest Fox Film production, "Dangerously Yours," now at the King's theatre, in which Warner Baxter is starred. She has the role of a girl detective who seeks to trap a suave society thief, played by Baxter.

Herbert Munding, Florence Eldridge, Nalla Walker, Florence Roberts, Mischa Auer, Arthur Hoyt and Will Davidson also are prominent in the cast. Frank Tuttle is the director.

"IT'S GREAT TO BE ALIVE"Edna May Oliver
Leading Part

Edna May Oliver couldn't bear the thought of giving up acting, and she couldn't bear the prospect of even one more Pullman jump. So she went to Hollywood and the movie and has been at it ever since in a steadily more important way.

She won't play any part, she doesn't like, which is one reason why Director Alfred Werker welcomed her in one of the most important roles of "It's Great to Be Alive," the Fox Film musical comedy which will introduce Raul Roulien as a star on the American screen at the King's Theatre next Sunday. Miss Oliver read the script and accepted the part ten minutes later.

Boston-Born and educated, Miss Oliver has been on the stage nearly all her life, first as an opera singer, then in musical comedy, then in dramatic plays, next in farces. She made the jump to Hollywood from Ziegfeld's "Show Boat," in which she portrayed the part of "Patty Ann Hawks."

"Cracked Nuts," "Cimarron," "Ladies of the Jury," "Hold 'Em Jail" and "Fanny Foley Herself" are among her screen successes.

In addition to Roulien and Miss Oliver, the cast of "It's Great to Be Alive" includes Herbert Munding, Dorothy Burgess, Joan Marsh and more than 1,000 of Hollywood's most beautiful girls.

MR. COCHRAN ON
THE FILMMr. Basil Dean
RepliesRELATIONS OF THE STAGE AND SCREEN

Mr. Basil Dean has made the following reply to Mr. Cochran's criticisms of British films and film producers and players:—

"I should like, as a beginning, to hint to Mr. Cochran ever so gently that he has been over hasty in criticism. I should have been better pleased if criticism had awaited the practical working out of my proposition. However, let me hasten to reassure him that my views as to the inter-relationship of stage and screen are not as ill considered as he seems to think; they have only been arrived at after a profound study of the problem extending over a period of three or four years, during which time I have been, as it were, serving a necessary apprenticeship to the whole business of making films. Mr. Cochran will find it necessary to serve a similar apprenticeship; and in the course of it I am convinced he will come to discard the American connection, as I have done before him. I will give my reasons in a moment.

First, the techniques of acting for the stage and for the screen are, of course, separate and distinct. But this is not to say that the younger and more flexible actors cannot acquire and use both techniques with skill and success. In my opinion stage experience is a very necessary part of the training of the modern picture actor; and this is generally recognised in America as well as in England. It is one of the reasons why Hollywood so successfully combs the British stage for the best of its young acting talent.

Mr. Cochran will be surprised to find me in such agreement with him, but that is because he has misunderstood my interview. The stage can and does supply writers and actors for the screen, but that is no reason why the talents of these artists should be divorced from the service of the stage once they have been recruited for the screen. They can divide their minds into compartments just as Mr. Cochran enjoins me to do, provided they have a clear perception of what those compartments should be and of the difference between the modes of expression of the two media. The point is that they have little or no encouragement to do so if they are enticed away to work under the factory-like conditions of Hollywood.

BRITISH FILMS.

This brings me to the second part of Mr. Cochran's letter. He criticises British films for their obvious faults, but he will be doing little to correct them if, in the service of an American corporation, he with his deep perception of artistic values is going to encourage British talent of all descriptions to work in a foreign land. The old cliché that "art is international" simply will not do: people too easily forget that all art that is truly international is firstly soundly national, if not in the subject-matter at least in the manner in which the original concept is worked out. We must always remember Hollywood's great technical accomplishment in film (Continued on previous column).

ECHOES OF 1858

65.—Sir John Bowring Reaches Manila

December 14, 1858.
Sir John Bowring arrived at Manila on the 3rd instant. Not one word is said about his sickness. He was intensely disgusted at the being no arrangements made by the British community for his reception. No message from the Consulate, nor deputation from the merchants. He is of course residing with the Governor, which is more than he deserves, for several governors of Manila have had to put up at hotels here during Sir John's administration, in the same manner as General Garrett had to do.

December 16, 1858.

Having been favoured with a full and literal translation of that portion of "El Comercio" dated 8th instant, relative to Sir John Bowring's reception at Manila, we give the same word for word as we received it that our readers may see we are taking no liberties with the Joke. We shall attempt in a future number of furnish this in the shape of a street ballad.

"On the morning of the 4th December, at 4 to 12, a salvo of artillery, announced to us the arrival of H.B.M. str. "Magicienne", on board of which was H.E. Sir John Bowring, Governor and Superintendent at Hong Kong, Military veteran, etc., an ancient participant of the glories of the Spanish Army, whose object is the restoration of his somewhat impaired health."

"At 4 p.m. a chosen body of the 8th Infantry, with a flag, received at the wharf this illustrious guest, who had apartments prepared at the Palace of H.E. the Captain General, by whom he was received with the most sympathetic and cordial greetings."

"Later in the day he rode out with H.E. on the public drive."

"This morning at 4 past 8, H.E. inspected the sugar factories, and also the tobacco stores and press, where he was accompanied by the director of collections, Senor Don S. G. Salas."

"At 12 noon, H.E. was waited upon by a commission from the different branches of the garrison, to congratulate him on his arrival."

We find that the Manila Editor is not so far out as we supposed. Sir John admitted himself one day, that he had been a wine merchant in Spain during the Peninsula War. It is well-known that he is by no means a connoisseur in the article, nor does he indulge either himself or his guests with those descriptions of the grapy juice, which a wine merchant would who had been over-taken with the honour and titles he now finds himself possessed of. For "wine merchant" read "keeper of a canteen"—then all discrepancies become reconciled and probabilities arrived at. If this be the case we should not at all be surprised to find that his known aversion to military rule arises entirely from having had his back scratched during his service in the Peninsula, for selling bad liquors.

In the Overland hurdy there appeared a letter from Manila clearly written by Sir John, all about himself. He has the gratitude to say that the Governor General sent the state barge for himself and Capt. Vansittart. It reads thus—that after being so ill at Hong Kong for weeks, that he could not go to the Supreme Court for a quarter of an hour to clear a gross aspersion reflecting on his character and administration, he went to Manila, was three days in a gale of wind, and within three days of his arrival underwent most extraordinary hardships, privations, labour and excitement. In the shape of salutes, levees, calls, visits, tours of inspection, and lionising in all its delectable concomitants.

WELCOME TO MR. AND MRS. Y. LEE

Entertained At Y's Men's Club

The Y's Men's Club of Hongkong held its monthly dinner on Thursday evening at the University Club in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Yinson Lee. There was a large gathering of members and friends to extend a most enthusiastic welcome to the guests of honour who are stopping over in Hongkong for a few days before returning to Shanghai, after their honeymoon trip to Foochow, Amoy and Manila.

Among those present were:—Dr. and Mrs. S.W. Phoon, Dr. and Mrs. Y. K. Wong, Mr. and Mrs. R. Shim, Edward Shim, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Tan, Mr. Francis Chang, Dr. Hilda Yuen, Dr. Hui Kok Yip, Drs. Arthur Woo and Messrs. T. C. Yip, F. I. Tsung Victor Kwong, P. H. Sir, James Choo and others. A flashlight picture was taken after dinner.

Dr. S. W. Phoon in the Chair said in his speech of welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Yinson Lee that he was glad of the opportunity to greet the bride party and to hear from Mr. Lee as to the activities and good work done by the Y's Clubs in other cities. He was gratified indeed to note the spread of the Y's movement throughout China which they owed in a measure to Mr. Lee's good work.

In conveying the greetings of the Clubs in Shanghai, Nanking, Foochow, Amoy (Photographs of which were put on exhibition) Mr. Lee told the Hongkong Club that there are now ten clubs in China, two in Manila and one in Colombo and he much appreciated the fact that wherever he visited he found the Y's Club engaged in one form of commendable social service or other. He commended the Hongkong Club on doing such fine work in maintaining schools for the poor, while some of its members are devoting themselves to the problem of relieving the street sleepers in the Colony during the winter months. In one respect, the Hongkong Y's Club had shown itself better than others because it carries on as usual during the height of the summer whereas Amoy, Foochow, and Shanghai have been obliged to suspend some of their activities on account of the weather. As Director of the China region, he heartily congratulated the Hongkong Y's Club on the progress made since his previous visit here 14 months ago.

Company Quartermaster Sergeant, No. 1833 Acting Corporal H. D. Matthews Anzac Company, to be Corporal as from September 9, 1933.

No. 1819 Acting Corporal J. P. Way, Anzac Company, to be Corporal as from September 1, 1933 and is posted to No. 1 Section, No. 1833.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION OF LICENSING BOARD

The Hon. the Attorney General, Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., presided over a meeting of the Licensing Board which took place yesterday at the Council Chamber. The business was confined to an application by Mr. R. G. Jones for a publican's license for Castle Peak Hotel and a Hotel Keeper's "Adjunct License" by the Luk Kok Hotel, the new seven-storyed structure in Gloucester Road, Wanchai.

Other members of the Board present besides the Chairman were Mr. H. B. L. Dowling, Mr. J. M. Wong, Mr. J. L. MacPherson and Mr. H. Owen Davis (Secretary). Mr. Pordue attended on behalf of the Police.

The Chairman stated that with regard to the application for the Castle Peak Hotel the papers were in order and there was no objection by either the Police or the Fire Brigade. The license was accordingly granted. Mr. Jones indicated that he would not require the license until November when the new licensing year commences.

With regard to the second application, Mr. P. M. Hodgson appeared for the applicant Mr. Chan Chuck Yin and on being asked by the Chairman whether a number of requirements by the Fire Brigade had been carried out, stated that some of the work had been done, while the rest of it was in hand. It was decided to grant a license subject to a certificate by the Chief Officer of the Fire Brigade that the work had been properly done.

The Board then considered the question of the license granted to the Marcel Cafe, the licensee being away from the Colony.

Mr. Blumenthal's son who is in charge of the business at present was sent for, and in reply to the Chairman, said that his father was sick and had been to Japan. He was expected back in ten days or a fortnight.

The Chairman said that the Board had power to withdraw the license altogether and asked if Mr. Blumenthal, junior, was prepared to apply for a transfer of the license to his name, in view of the absence of his father from the Colony. This was agreed to by Mr. Blumenthal, who was then warned that the conditions of the license were not to be ignored. Mr. Blumenthal assured the Board that the whole affair was due to a misunderstanding.

The regulations state that the licensee must not leave his premises during business hours.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST CHINESE

Illegal Entering Of Dwelling House

Charges of entering a dwelling house with intent to steal were preferred against a Chinese named Liu Shiu Man, alias Liu Shiu Fong, alias Liu Man at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Inspector Fender had charge of the case and in addressing Mr. Schofield, he said that the defendant was seen on the verandah of 19A, High Street at about 3 a.m. on August 8. He was arrested by two of the inmates of the house who later handed him over to a policeman.

Continuing Inspector Fender said that the man was taken to the police and charged, and when asked if he wanted to make any statement, he replied that he had nothing to say.

After evidence of arrest had been taken, the Magistrate committed Liu to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

MORE OFFENDING MOTORISTS

Fine For Speeding May Be Increased

Yesterday was another "traffic day" at Central Magistracy several Motor drivers, including six Europeans, being summoned before Mr. Schofield for various motoring offences.

Mr. D. G. C. Middelburg of the Netherlands Consulate, was fined $15 for driving a private car past a stationary tram in Queen's Road, East, on August 17.

Traffic Inspector Alexander said that a military officer with his wife and daughter, were about to cross the road opposite the dockyard to board the tram, when defendant's and another car drove past.

RECITAL AT CANTON

Professor H. Ore And Ma Sze Chung

Music-lovers are to be given a special treat this evening when a recital of music at which two experts will take part is to be given at the Y.M.C.A., Canton. At the time of writing the programme is unknown, but it is likely to be entirely classical and one to be looked forward to. Already a great number of seats have been booked. Whilst Mr. Harry Ore is known throughout the East as a pianist, his fellow artist for this recital needs introduction. Mr. Ma Sze Chung is a young Cantonese violinist, and it has been said that he is an example of how genius plus hard work can in time turn a keen enthusiast into a master of the most difficult of all musical instruments—the violin. Mr. Ma at an early age went to France to study an instrument, the playing of which, even in those days, he knew would eventually be his one love and hobby. He studied continuously until 1930, and before returning to China in the same year he won recognition at the Paris Conservatoire for his rendering of extremely difficult music. We feel sure that both he and Professor Ore can look forward to a hearty reception this evening.

OFFICIOUS CHINESE FINED INTERFERED WITH POLICE

"If a person is being arrested and resists arrest, and refuses to come to the Station, it is the duty of the Police to use sufficient force to bring him up. You are not to interfere with them," remarked Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning when he fined Lee Hi, mess contractor on the s.s. Tung On, $25 for obstructing the police in Rumsey Street.

A Chinese Woman was being arrested for hawking congee without a license, and defendant interfered. Defendant—I only told the constable not to twist the old woman's hand. She refused to go to the station and I was afraid he might hurt her.

Inspector Brennan said the woman had not complained of being hurt.

Mr. Wynne-Jones asked the woman what she meant by creating trouble, and she replied she did not want to be arrested.

The magistrate: I have seen some of you women arrested and I have seen some of the trouble you make. You lie down on the road & you scream.

A fine of $4 was imposed.

The bride was given away by Mr. Basil H. Church, M.C., while Mrs. Beryl Church was Matron of Honour.

The Rev. E. C. H. Tribbeck acted as best man.

After the wedding a small reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Church, the newly married couple leaving later in the morning for Macao where the honeymoon is being spent.

Local estate worth $20,000 was left by Chan Chung-ming, a ship chandler, of 214, Hennessy Road, who died on August 11, 1932. Letters of administration have been granted to Chan Chiu-shi, widow.

Wong Fu, alias Wong Leung-yun, merchant, late of Montreal, died on July 30, 1931, leaving local estate worth $15,700. Letters of administration have been granted to Wong Lun under trust for Wong Li-shi, son.

Humphreys Mr. N. Drummond, Mr. F. R. Birch and Mr. J. M. Morhams were each fined $5.

Mrs. H. Owen Hughes was summoned for having driven a private car past Wyndham Street was fined $10. Sergeant Danbrowsky said that the car was driven right up to the Dairy Farm.

Leu Ping-pui, the driver of a private car, was fined $25 for driving dangerously in Whitefield.

Traffic Inspector Alexander said that the defendant was speeding and overtook a tram.

Mr. Schofield remarked that in future he would increase the fine for dangerously driving, as there appeared to be an increasing number of instances of this offence. He considered that a fine of $25 was not enough to deter people.

HEALTH AND DISEASES

Second Lecture by Mr. Geoffrey Hodson

THE LAW OF CAUSE AND EFFECT

The second lecture of Mr. Geoffrey Hodson was attended by a considerably bigger attendance last night than his first address in Hong Kong. The subject, "The occult meaning of Health and Diseases" proved an extremely interesting one.

Mr. Hodson, while paying a tribute to the work done and sacrifice made by members of the medical profession, said that while progress was made on every front of science the medical profession was not sharing that progress. The figures for cancer and diabetes showed that these diseases were claiming more victims than ever before. Science was still very largely materialistic, although it had escaped from the materialistic period. It was beginning to suspect that the ancient wisdom had always taught of the existence of living science and force behind matter governing evolution.

When one dealt with human organism and tried to understand it, to heal its diseases and relieve its sorrow, and if one was purely materialistic about it, failure was bound to come. Science ignoring the psychic aspect, continued to fail. It was on this point that the ancient wisdom had such an important message for the world. It provided the clue and the key to the problem of disease. With that knowledge it was impossible to understand human life in sickness or in health and it was impossible intelligently to live.

"What is Man?" The speaker then dealt with three questions, "What is Man?" "What is the purpose of his pilgrimage?" "How shall we reach that goal?"

There was a law of the "ebb and flow" of life and in our pilgrimage through life, it would be possible to achieve our goal. Without re-incarnation and the will to re-birth, life would be a hopeless riddle.

All our various lives are linked together by the law of cause and effect, the law of re-adjustment and compensation, the incessant personal adjustment, the purpose of which is to restore and balance the harmony of the soul with the universe.

Behind every disease there was a transgression, behind every disease there was a weakness and a defective character. To show the effect Mr. Hodson said that ignorance was the primary cause of man's troubles. It led to transgression and to error, which in turn led to suffering and pain, and out of that suffering we get experience and wisdom. The safest way to avoid disease and suffering was not physical avoidance but to remember the teaching "Go, sin no more!"

The lecturer then discussed the causes of various diseases, an interesting point mentioned being that behind lunacy and idiosyncy there was a history of great cruelty in an earlier life. Deafness, for instance, was the result of deliberately ignoring the voice of the conscience in the past life.

SWATOW JOTTINGS

(From a Correspondent)

Tuesday, Sept. 5. The extremely hot weather which we have been having the last two months seems to be gradually departing and the last few days have been more or less bearable.

However, although Swatow has been hot this summer we have been spared a repetition of last year with its severe outbreak of cholera.

There has been considerable mortality amongst the Chinese residents through a certain type of fever but this now appears to have passed its zenith.

Yesterday, September 4, was a double holiday being a Chinese holiday (the Ghost Festival) and an American holiday (Labour Day). The Americans in port celebrated in home fashion. A large party made a picnic trip to Ta-tai-pou, a Chinese village some miles up the river. The party included Mr. L. H. Green, Mr. R. C. Coudrey, Capt. and Mrs. Helms and a number of other local American residents.

Going around town in the evening, it was interesting to see innumerable small fires and joss burning outside Chinese homes. Just what this means could be better explained by one better acquainted with Chinese customs.

One of the latest innovations is a local law which requires all public rickshaws to wear distinguished hats when plying for fares.

We hear that there is a possibility of a library for the Chinese, to be located near the Telephone Building.

The improvements in the City Park are continuing so much so that a Cantonese visitor told our correspondent recently that the Park in Swatow was much better than they have in Canton.

The city is quiet and as yet there is no sign of active disturbance by the "Reds." Business conditions are not too bad, and we hear of considerable improvement in one of Swatow's principal industries of embroidery.

Mr. R. Ramsay is in Hong Kong on a short visit.

To-day's departures are Mrs. M. H. Varu and daughter (Jean). Mrs. Varu is taking her daughter to Hong Kong to see her safely on her way back to school in Shanghai.

The U.S.S. Tuba will be leaving in a few days and another new-comer to Swatow is expected tomorrow, the U.S.S. Sacramento.

A JOURNEY IN HAINAN HOW NO-LAK'S INNKEEPER THRIVES

Life In A Fishing Villages

(Our Kachek Correspondent continues a most interesting account of the out of the way parts of Hainan Island, the first part of which was published in our Friday issue.)

Kachek, Aug. 30. On this trip the damage done by the disastrous typhoon of July 30th was clearly visible. South from Kachek nearly to Liang-kur trees were bare of leaves—an incongruous suggestion of winter, with bright green grass everywhere and the tropical sun pouring down its heat. Many buildings had collapsed and many tile roofs were open. Tremendous trees were broken off or uprooted. Hugh banyan trees that had stood guard over temples and ancestral halls for decades went down before this wind, breaking in the roofs of the buildings they had guarded so long. At Bak-to market, east of Vang-neng city, many buildings are down. The Chinese say damage done by communists was bad enough but that from the storm is much worse and affects more people. The first of the rice crop was almost ready for harvest when the storm struck and much of the grain was hurt by being beaten down into the water, or by having the heads shattered by the force of the wind. While in Kachek the wind came from the north and east and southeast, there it came from the west and southwest.

Bak-to market has just opened a reading room in a shop which is public (probably temple) property. They have good modern maps on the walls, newspapers and periodicals, and a fair supply of books on hand. It is an interesting community enterprise.

Sea Foods

Both in Bak-to and No-lak markets sea foods are much in evidence. Good fresh fish, of all varieties and sizes, big shrimp and little shrimp, lobsters, crabs, clams and eels are on sale. At this season taro, "dang koe" (a huge water melon with white flesh), bean sprouts and string beans are on sale. Rice is bought in Bak-to and taken to No-lak in small boats. The trip is a pleasant one if the wind is favourable. The boats are small, about fifteen feet long and three feet wide in the middle, and uncovered. Two or three men manage a boat, poling, steering with a broad paddle, and manipulating a matting sail. Passengers and/or rice are carried. The boats go down a fairly large river from Bak-to to the sea and then sail across a lovely bay. With a very light load and the wind in our favour it took us an hour and a half to cross. Never out of sight of the low-lying mainland, there are most intriguing little islands everywhere, reminding one of the beautiful Bale d'Along at Haiphong.

One island is the source of the famous birds' nests from which birds' nest soup is made. Little fishing boats are everywhere, and boats in which seaweed is being collected. The rice boats anchor on a flat mud beach and it is a walk of a mile or so to No-lak market.

Two things distinguish Vang-neng from most other parts of Hainan. One is the six-cornered hats worn by the women and children, hats which they weave themselves from the leaves of the screw pine. The other is the ugly red-stained lips and the blackened and broken teeth of the confirmed betelnut chewers, as conspicuous here as in Dameshow. The users of the nut are greatly worried lest their supply be cut off for a while, as so many nuts were blown off the trees by the storm, and many trees were broken off also.

The Official Scales Outgoing freight from No-lak is principally rice and salt fish. The local people turn up their noses at salt fish and say they never eat it unless in winter it is so stormy boats cannot go out fishing for a long stretch of time. At present carloads of the big melons mentioned above are being sent to Kachek, where the maturing crop was ruined by the typhoon. Peanuts are also a big crop. At the inn where the official scales for weighing peanuts are kept the genial innkeeper takes his pay in a handful or two of nuts from each load and the big wicker containers in his upper room are always full. (The rats know that and know the good taste of peanuts—as we occupied this upper room at night we could hear the nightingale of the rats biting into the shells to get at the nuts, all night long). Rice is polished in this inn at the rate of ten coppers a peck, and three adults working steadily cannot do more than twenty pecks or two da loads a day. So the three would receive about 80 cents local currency for a day's work to divide between them, and this is considered fairly good pay for that region. The people of Vang-neng are never very well fixed financially as a general thing, and there is much sickness. Incidence of hookworm infection is high, and malaria takes heavy toll of strength and working time. Even so they are cheery and genial to meet, and are gradually re-couping the losses of communist-bandit days. If only peace can continue a few more years the region will be back to normal—and conditions will be even better than in the good old days' because of better transportation facilities.

possibility of a Shanghai ladies team coming down here in November. When it was discovered we would not be able to send a team to Shanghai the local L.T.A. extended an invitation to the Shanghai L.T.A. and this is being considered by them. The suggestion has been put forward that the team should come down with the Shanghai Interport cricketers who are due in the early part of the winter.

At the beginning hopes were entertained that we would be able to send up a very good team but H. D. Rumjahn (perhaps the Colony's most necessary man), and several others had to decline invitations to go on account of business calls. Then, on top of that, Sirdar Rumjahn hurt his knee in the match against the Regatta, and as it has been giving him some trouble lately, he decided to take no risks of damaging it further.

Shanghai have already beaten Tientsin by five clear matches this summer, and as Hong Kong are unable to challenge them this year, they will retain possession of the Taggart Cup for another term.

SINGLES LEAGUE NOT FAVOURED?

The suggestion of establishing a Singles Tennis League does not seem to be meeting with much approval from the clubs. Several of them have already replied in the negative to the Lawn Tennis Association circular letter on the subject, and the rest, says the Association, have been very slow in answering.

The clubs who have decided not to join the competition have put forward as a reason either that their grounds will be required for cricket or that their players would be engaged in other games.

It will be remembered that the Lawn Tennis Association recently sent out circulars to the various clubs asking for their opinions of the suggestion of forming a single league. There has been a certain amount of support for the scheme, but not enough to justify the holding of the competition.

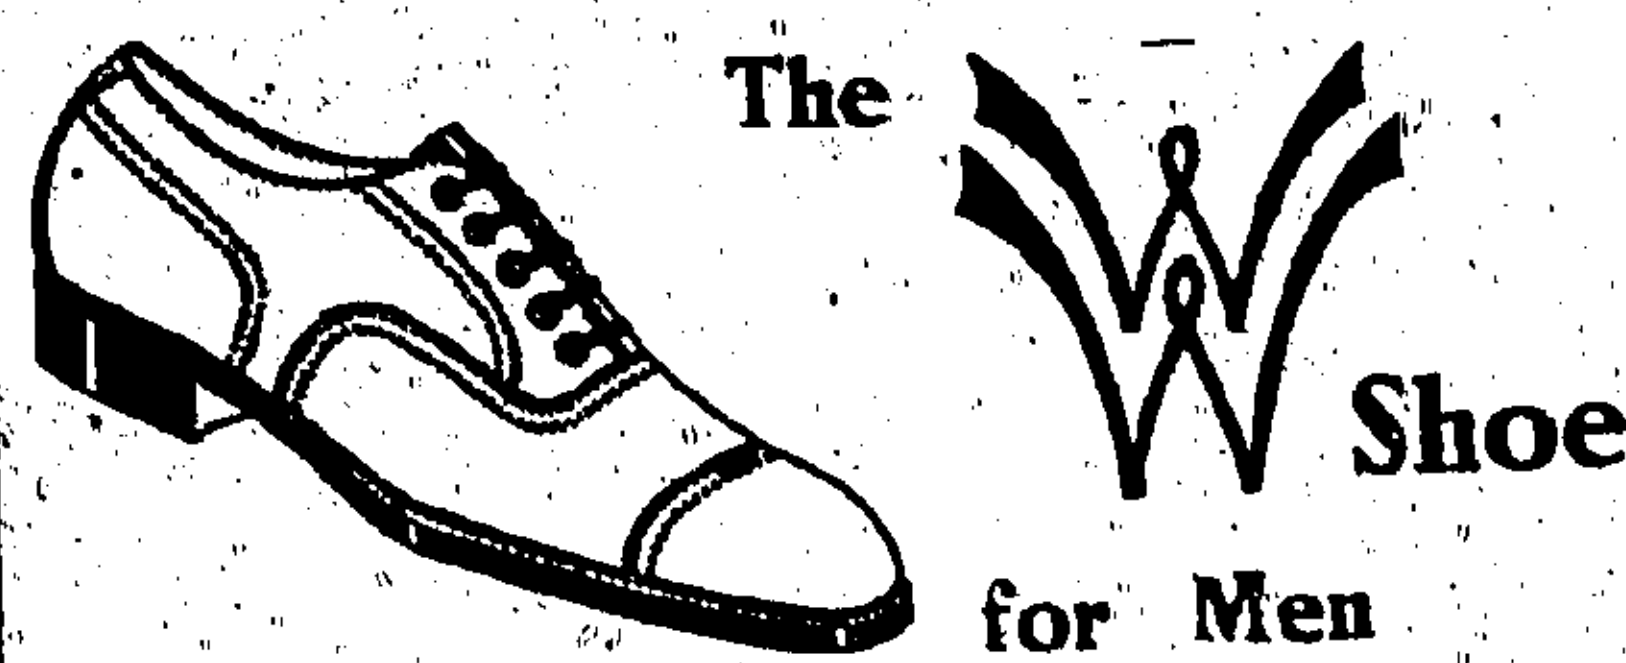

The Association wants, however, to have the opinion of all members before it comes to a decision.

PRESTIGE IN THE FAR EAST

The great Sino-Japanese conflict finally shattered the dream of international goodwill and co-operation, based upon a general regard for the broad principles of justice, as expressed in international law and interpreted by a World Court. The old struggle for markets, for land, for prestige, has been started once more and all nations are replacing "the vision" with what is called "reality." Great Britain, with the rest of the Powers must bestir herself, if she is to maintain her place in the Far East, against rivals who will neither ask nor give quarter in the struggle.

Great Britain starts with immense advantages over all rivals, having three great corner stones, of co-equal strength and importance in her position out East. The first is the established fame of the British trader and banker for honesty, efficiency and reliability. The second is the good order, the wealth and the prosperity of Hong Kong and the great Concessions further north, of Shanghai and Tientsin. The third is the British Fleet. China watches Hong Kong closely. A water famine, a harsh or a weak decision in a police court, the failure of a British firm, even the misbehaviour of a British subject is exploited in no uncertain manner. Perhaps it is not always realised what the presence of the China Fleet means, that great assembly of six big cruisers, five of the County class, an aircraft carrier, ten destroyers, five sloops, twelve submarines, and their parent ship, the Medway, the Yangtze flotilla of twelve gunboats, under a rear admiral, and the West River patrol of four gunboats under a post captain. Moreover it is realised that these are but the light cavalry of the Fleet, and behind cruisers and destroyers, are the super-dreadnought squadrons at Home.

These are magnificent assets, but they are not of themselves sufficient to maintain the British position in the East. Last century the American producer and salesman, being faced the world over with the massive structure of British trade, evolved advertising as a means for pushing his goods. Rather crude efforts at the beginning were derided as "blowing your own trumpet," and always striking a false note. But scientific advertising to-day is a different matter, and the full importance is realised of the persistent, subtle and legitimate means by which a salesman emphasises the good points of his wares. Advertising is not a matter where British firms can afford to lag.

The German trader, and to a slightly lesser extent the Americans have also pushed their trade by a careful study of the people of China and their exact requirements. Representatives of their firms, speaking good Chinese, penetrate up-country and know the conditions that have to be met. They have a way of winning confidence, and their expense allowances are generous. A consul, a travelling representative, or the head of a firm, can do much with less than the equivalent of the cost of the upkeep of a small British warship. For one thing they can send home, with dignity and discretion, members of their community who are doing them no good out here. Germany has no warship out East, nor has any Scandinavian country.

Another source of power in the modern world, which it would be the height of folly to ignore, is the written word. China has always been a nation of readers. Education is spreading, and the hunger for it is a phenomenon that superficial observers neglect. Great Britain has a chain of newspapers in China, old established, known to the Chinese; respected for integrity, independence and understanding of China's aspirations and the necessity of reconciling them with the position of the foreigner to the advantage of both. There is also the greatest news-agency in the world, holding its own against rivals, all of them subsidized, and most of them at present directed with more enthusiasm than discretion. It is not the British way to seek Government help, in exchange for this and that modification of independence. It was not the British way to hedge our industries with tariffs. The instinct of our people is for free trade

LOCAL SOCCER

First Trial Matches To-Day

CLUB v. ARTILLERY

That members of the Hong Kong Football Club are following their Chairman's appeal, made at the recent annual meeting, to regain its old premiership in local soccer, is fully evident by the fact that since the announcement of the League—September 30—they have been engaged in serious practice almost every other day. Besides this, however, they have arranged trial matches with other teams, and to-day, on their own ground, they will be seen in action against the Royal Artillery both in the Senior and Junior divisions.

This year they have several newcomers, the most prominent of them being Charles Wright, Bunny Bickford and Drown. Wright used to play in the first division of the Shanghai Football League and is known to be a clever and reliable centre half, while Bunny Bickford, a clever left winger, formerly played for Kowloon.

With these new acquisitions the Club's chances are no doubt bright, but unfortunately this cannot be said of their opponents to-day the Royal Artillery, who figured so well last year.

They have lost, Taylor, Moore, Bryant Wood, and Gough. The first three have gone back to England, Gough has joined the Police, while Wood has decided to retire from the game.

However, they have several prominent reserves in Wroe, Edmunds and Macdonald but nevertheless, in view of this, they are still greatly handicapped.

The teams for to-morrow, kick off at 5 p.m. are:
Club:—A. N. Other, Martin and S. Strange; Skinner, C. A. Wright and A. Duncan; Drown, Dominy, Howe, E. Strange and Bickford. R.A.:—Comby, Allan and Wroe; Rodgers, Pardoe and Harris; Edmunds, Macdonald, Greenshields, Walker and Seal.

The club's second team to meet the R.A. will be: Simmonds; G. M. Binnie and M. Ralston; Lowe, Boyd and Gilchrist; Fisher, Williamson, Fowler, Hills and Sloan.

and free competition. But Britain was forced into the tariff system, and in meeting the new international struggle the Colonial Governments, the State Departments concerned, not the Foreign and Colonial Offices only, but the Admiralty, the War Office, and the Imperial Defence Committee, should consider the strengthening of every brick, every beam and rafter in the great structure of our Far Eastern position, upon whose strength must depend not only our strategic position, but the safety of our overseas possessions and the recovery of our Home industries.

MR. KU SHAO WEN

Peking, Sept. 4.
Mr. Ku Shao-wen, considered the foremost Chinese scholar of the old school, has died at his Peking home at the advanced age of 84. Mr. Ku was a native of Shantung and had held many important posts in the Ching Dynasty, including that of compiler of the Hanlin Academy and the Inspector-commissioner of Shantung. At one time he was chancellor of the Imperial University.

After the establishment of the Republic he led a retired life, devoting his time to literary pursuits. President Yuan Shih-kai, Mr. Chi-jui had more than once urged Mr. Ku to come out of his retirement and enter the government service but he turned down their offers on the plea of advanced age and ill-health.

Mr. Ku is survived by two daughters and three daughters and a large number of grandchildren. He was the only Chinese scholar on whom the Tokyo Imperial University conferred the honorary degree of doctor of literary accomplishments. At one time he was also a member of the Sino-Japanese Cultural Committee which administers the Japanese portion of the Chinese Boxer Indemnity.—Reuter.

MR. GEORGE EDWIN BAKER

The death occurred at midnight on Sunday, August 27, at Peitaboo of Mr. George Edwin Baker. The funeral was held on August 30 and was attended by numerous friends. The Rev. J. P. Leyne officiated and Mrs. E. O. Wilson of Peking rendered a solo at the grave-side.

The late Mr. Baker came to China in 1904, at first being connected with the English Baptist Missionary Society. In 1911 he joined the Chinese Postal Service, which service he left in 1923. Since 1930 and until quite recently he was connected with the China Realty Co. in Shanghai.

As a member and Master Mason of the International Lodge of Peking and an ardent Rotarian, his loss will be felt by many. He is survived by Mrs. Baker in China and a brother and three sisters in England.

The death occurred after a day's illness from sunstroke.

MR. GEORGE THOMAS MARYE

Washington, Sept. 3.
The death is announced, at the age of 82, of Mr. George Thomas Marye, who, during the first two years of the Great War, was Ambassador to Russia and was decorated by the Tsar with the Order of St. Alexander Nevsky.

Mr. Marye was a man of wide culture and was a popular clubman. He was educated at Cambridge University, where he graduated with honours, and also pursued his studies in Italy, Germany, France and Spain. He started his career as a lawyer but later abandoned this profession in favour of the banking business.

He was a member of the Board of Freeholders to draft a charter for the City and County of San Francisco. He had an office in San Francisco and made his home in both Washington, D.C., and Burlingame, California.—Reuter.

Lord Grey ameliorated many of the war's dreadful results.—British Wireless and Reuter.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

One case each of diphtheria, typhoid and meningitis were reported on Thursday.

As the result of falling from the second floor verandah of 306, Canton Road, Wong Tsai Ting, a 17-year-old girl, was severely injured and was moved to Kowloon Hospital in a critical condition.

"There is a lot of this going on round about the Hong Kong Hotel, Chater Road and the Post Office. They pick up men and take them to brothels and also keep a watch for Police raids," said Detective Inspector Baker, in prosecuting a rickshaw coolie for soliciting for prostitution. Defendant pleaded guilty and a fine of $50 or six weeks' imprisonment was imposed.

THE LATE LORD GREY

London Memorial Service On Monday

London, Sept. 7.
Viscount Grey's body will be cremated at Darlington Cemetery at noon on Saturday when the Bishop of Newcastle will conduct the service.

At the same hour, a memorial service will be conducted by the local vicar at the parish church of Embleton, near Lord Grey's home. There will be a memorial service at Westminster Abbey on Monday.

Messages of sympathy were received at Falloden from the King and Queen and tributes to the late statesman have been paid by all the leading politicians and all the evening papers irrespective of party and in many quarters abroad.

These bear out the deep affection and the high respect in which he was held by all who came in contact with him, including those who did not share his political views.

Noteworthy Tributes

Some noteworthy tributes came from Mr. Arthur Henderson, Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Ullswater.

The last-named, ex-Speaker of the House of Commons, says: "The speech he made on the eve of the declaration of war was the most moving I ever heard in the Commons." It was during that speech that Lord Grey declared: "We have worked for peace up to the last moment and beyond the last moment." Several references are made to Lord Grey's warm support since the war to the League of Nations.

Foreign Memories

The Government has received the following message from the Belgian Government:—

"News of the death of Viscount Grey, just received in Belgium, has caused deep emotion. The country remembers the important part played by this eminent statesman when its territory was violated in 1914. The whole nation will faithfully preserve his memory and joins in the mourning of the English people."

The French Ambassador has sent the following message: "The French Government hears with deep emotion of the death of Lord Grey. Faithful to the memory of the great statesman who worked so hard for Franco-British friendship and for peace, the Government asks me to convey to the British Government its deep sympathy and sorrow which it shares with the British Nation."

The King's Message

The text of the King's message to Lord Grey's sister is: "I am greatly moved at the news of the death of my old friend, Lord Grey. Lord Grey will ever be gratefully remembered for his devoted service to his country through three successive reigns and in those eventful years provided himself not only a distinguished statesman but a great Englishman. The Queen and I assure you and your family of our heartfelt sympathy."

"All Americans will give Viscount Grey a high place in history," declared ex-President Hoover, in a message from Sacramento, California, paying tribute to the dead statesman.

Publicity For Philippines

GETTING RESULTS

Manila.—Several well-known figures in America today are planning to visit the Philippines early next year as a result of conferences with James, King Steele, executive secretary of the Philippine Tourist Association, who is in charge of the Philippine exhibit at the Chicago exposition.

John Nelson, president of Rotary International, has assured Mr. Steele that he would come to the Islands after visiting Shanghai in February.

Texas Guinan, nationally famous night club hostess and entertainer, who is conducting a show in the exposition grounds, was interested by Mr. Steele in a tour to the Islands this fall or in the spring.

Burton Holmes, well-known lecturer, promised Mr. Steele to send his cameraman on an extended visit to the Philippines early next year to obtain new material for his moving picture series.

H. M. Cavender, president of the tourist association, has received a full report from Mr. Steele of his activities since he arrived in the States. The Philippine exhibit occupies one of the best locations in the travel and transport building. Mr. Steele says.

The embroidered pina cloth handed to the exhibit by Miss Sarah S. Metcalfe of Manila won special prizes from the women visitors. Reporting on the visit of several newspaper women writers and columnists who attended a private view of this collection, Mr. Steele writes:

"One of these women brought some prominent society folk from the North Shore. The executive secretary was showing some of the Philippine dresses he brought along for the purpose. One of these ladies examining the large sleeves of the Barong Tagalog and Balintawak said: 'Aren't these Filipinas smart! Here they are copying our new fashions in big sleeves and going up one better in size and style.' She was surprised when the executive secretary explained the origin and history of this style of dress."—Manila Bulletin.

Defendant was fined $10 on the first charge, and $5 on the other.

NANCHANG CAPTIVES RELEASED

SAFE ARRIVAL AT YINGKOW

SERIOUS ALLEGATION BY FOREIGN MINISTER

"Victims Carelessness Cause Of Incident"

Newchwang, September 8.

Arriving from Panshan by armoured train at 7 a.m., the Nanchang ex-captives were rushed by a Manchukuo Police patrol-boat to Yingkow where, at the Headquarters of the Imperial Japanese Gendarmerie, Capt. Obata formally handed them over to Mr. D. H. Clarke, the British vice-consul at Mukden.

The ex-captives shaved off their beards, combed their long shaggy hair, enjoyed the luxury of a bath and changed into welcome clean clothes; but before having an eagerly awaited breakfast they obligingly allowed a host of photographers to snap them in an unassuming manner which impressed everyone.

The ex-captives intimated they did not desire flaring publicity, but said they would have a wonderful story to tell their friends. They were really glad, that if their captivity was fated they had undergone it in Manchukuo as the climate was all that was desirable.

WELL TREATED BY BANDITS

Newchwang, Sept. 8.

THE liberated Nanchang Officers revealed that the supplies sent to them by Mr. Clarke, while in captivity, had reached them safely. The bandits treated them fairly well and never resorted to torture.

The captives played cards in the day-time and moved about at night.

All three are planning to go to England as soon as possible. Mr. Johnson has three months more to complete his five-year contract, Hargrave two years, and Blue two months.

Mr. Grant Meiers, Butterfield's agent here said the three men will be sent to Shanghai in a day or two. Meantime, they are staying as his guests.

Mr. Clarke, who has been here since March 29 is leaving for Mukden to-night. The release of the captives was effected at 3 p.m. yesterday in a Kaoliang field ten miles from Panshan. The ransom is described as nominal, being paid after a messenger had ascertained the captives were safe and well.

After Five Months In Captivity.

Newchwang, Sept. 8.

AFTER more than five months in the hands of bandits and pirates, harassed by constant movement from place to place, again and again in dire peril when their captors collided with rival hands or with Manchukuo troops, the three British officers of the s.s. Nanchang were released yesterday and arrived last night at Panshan.

No record of their experiences is yet obtainable, but they are cheerful enough, though carrying the tale of hardships about them.

The officers concerned are Mr. Clifford Johnson, chief officer of the Nanchang.

Mr. W. E. Hargrave, second officer.

Mr. A. D. Blue, second engineer.

BRITAIN'S NEW SILK DUTIES

Suspended For The Present

London, Sept. 7. PROPOSALS for the upward revision of duties upon silk and artificial silk have been suspended in view of the forthcoming Anglo-Japanese discussions.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, in a letter to Sir George May, chairman of the Import Duties Advisory Committee, points out that circumstances have now arisen in which the Government is of opinion that it is desirable that the revision of the silk duties contemplated by the 1933 Budget shall be deferred.

Mr. Chamberlain adds that the Government feels that the prospect of a satisfactory outcome of the discussions at Simla between Britain, India and Japan might be seriously prejudiced by any changes for the present in such duties.

Sir George May has replied accepting the Government proposal to suspend consideration of an increase in silk duties for the present.—Reuter.

Wearily, ragged, and worn with anxiety as the result of their prolonged captivity, but showing the true British spirit of cheerfulness, the three kidnapped officers of the s.s. and ship Nanchang, were brought safely to Panshan by Captain Obata, chief of the Japanese gendarmerie at Newchwang, at nine o'clock last night.

The ex-captives, who are suffering from suppurated mosquito bites, said nothing of their experiences, but expressed gratitude at the successful combined efforts of the Japanese and Manchukuo authorities, resulting in their happy release.

We Are Alright

Questioned as to their condition, the officers exclaimed "Are we alright?" and then shouted gleefully in unison "Yes."

Owing to their late return, the three officers are remaining at Panshan until the morning, when they will take train for Newchwang, where the British Consul, Mr. Clark, and the commander of the destroyer, H.M.S. Whitshed, are waiting to receive them and to congratulate and extend thanks to their rescuers.

Residents of Newchwang are waiting with personal and medical comforts to attend to their welfare.

By a curious coincidence, the three officers were released on the anniversary of the capture of Mrs. Muriel Pawley and Mr. Charles Corkran. The liberated captives are expected to arrive in Newchwang at 7 a.m. on Friday.—Reuter.

PLAGUE PANIC AT POONA

Said To Be Well Under Control

Poona, Sept. 8.

A PLAGUE panic has taken hold of the European community in Poona, and a rush to be inoculated against the dread disease is now in progress.

A severe outbreak of plague has been raging in the native city for some time, but no anxiety was occasioned in the European quarter until yesterday when the alarming discovery was made of a plague-stricken rat in the motor-car of the General Officer Commanding, Southern Command.

Lieut. General Sir George Jeffreys and Lady Jeffreys were visiting the Military Hospital at Poona. When they returned to the car, the rat was discovered inside.

Some time later, another dead rat, infected with the plague virus, was found in the European Club. The circumstances suggest that there is reason to suspect as a distinct possibility that the diseased rats were planted by lawless elements.

Naturally, fears have been aroused and the Europeans are leaving nothing to chance.

There are twelve deaths occurring from plague daily among the Indians in the native city, although the situation is said to be well within the control of the authorities.—Reuter.

THE CHANGCHUN STATEMENT

Changchun, Sept. 8.

RELATIVE to the rescue of the Nanchang Officers, the Foreign Minister Mr. Hsieh Chieh Hshih, has made a statement praising their Manchukuo and Japanese rescuers adding: "The carelessness of the victims constituted an important cause of the incident." He said the officers and crew of the Nanchang "exhibited utter recklessness and lack of nerve as their ship was surprised by a small band of brigands who were allowed their own way aboard the vessel."

Disclaiming any Manchukuo responsibility, Mr. Hsieh declared that foreigners going to Manchuria should exercise greater caution in future.

CANTON GOV. AND INDUSTRY

Plan To Start Sugar Factory

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Sept. 8.

BELIEVING that government ownership and operation of industries is a profitable proposition, the Provincial Department of Reconstruction has planned to start a sugar refining factory in the western outskirts of the city in Poon Yue County.

Machinery and equipment are supplied by an American firm in Honolulu at a cost of U.S. $375,000 payable in ten installments. The first payment is U.S. $37,500. The machinery and accessories will reach Canton at the end of October, when the plant will be assembled.

Later on the Provincial Department of Reconstruction will establish other sugar factories in Wai Chow, Hainan Island, and South Kwangtung districts. Statistics show that the province consumes a large quantity of sugar, mostly imported, hence the Government will embark on this business.

Another reconstruction project is the erection of a fishery station at Swabue by the same Provincial Department. In that station there will be a refrigerating and a drying plant in connection with fishery purposes.

THE KULING CONFERENCE

Believed Drawing To An End

Nanking, Sept. 8.

While officials here are maintaining complete reticence regarding the outcome of the Kuling Conference, the parley seems to be drawing to an end. This is indicated by the departure of Mr. T. V. Soong, Mr. Sun Fo and Dr. H. H. Kung from the summer resort.

Mr. Sun Fo, who arrived in Nanking at noon by air, attended a meeting of the Legislative Yuan at 3 p.m. Mr. Soong and Dr. Kung left for Shanghai on board the Chinese cruiser Chungshan.

It is reported that Mr. Soong's departure from Kuling was necessitated by urgent affairs in Shanghai, presumably in connection with the reported loan negotiations with Shanghai bankers, with a view to providing funds for flood relief.

The discussions are being carried on at Kuling between Mr. Wang Ching Wei, General Chiang Kai Shek and other leaders, but it is probable that the major decisions have already been reached.—Reuter.

Tso and Wang are well known for their pro-Japanese attitude, and were once seriously assaulted by students in Peking for their alleged sale of the country.—Central Press.

SOUTH VERSUS THE NORTH

Important Telegrams Published

Nanking, Sept. 7.

Two important telegrams exchanged between Canton and Nanking leaders recently, were published this evening.

After saying that repeated queries from Canton had hitherto remained unanswered by Nanking, Southern leaders, including Chen Tsai Tang, III Tsung Jen and Tsai Ting Kai, in a telegram dated September 3, raised the following four questions:

1. Since national salvation lies in the suppression of Communists and resistance to foreign aggression, in which connection measures have already been decided by the Kuomintang Fourth Plenary Session, it is undesirable to convene the Fifth Kuomintang National Congress in November, especially as such a conference may lead to fresh complications.

2. Civil and military authorities, as well as public organizations in all Provinces, shall be allowed to nominate delegates to a joint committee, which shall hold in trust the proceeds of the American Loan and supervise the expenditure thereof.

Under this heading, the Cantonese leaders express the fear that the importation of large quantities of foreign agricultural produce will impair the interests of Chinese farmers, and emphasize the harm which will follow if the Loan is employed for unproductive purposes.

3. All documents in connection with the Tangku Truce shall be published.

4. The anti-Japanese forces in Charhar to be maintained.

The North's Reply

General Chiang Kai Shek and Mr. Wang Ching Wei replied yesterday to the following effect:

1. The Fifth Kuomintang National Congress should be held in November according to Kuomintang regulations which, however, stipulate that the Conference may be postponed for a year if special circumstances render such postponement necessary. For the sake of conformity with Kuomintang procedure, it would be more appropriate for the Southern leaders to submit their views in this connection directly to the Central Executive Council.

2. The Central Political Council has already decided that the American Loan should be spent in productive enterprises. Detailed regulations are being considered and will be published shortly. It is recalled that General Chiang and Mr. Wang, in an earlier telegram, solemnly declared the money would not be employed for military purposes.

3. The Sino-Japanese Truce Agreement has already been published, and there are absolutely no secret annexes.

4. The reorganization of the troops in Charhar is proceeding apace, with the exception of the forces of Generals Chi Hung Chang and Tang Chen Wu, who are obviously Communists. The other troops in the Province have been reorganized and their commander given Government appointments.—Reuter.

JEW TO FIGHT HITLER

Boycott Urged At Geneva

Geneva, Sept. 8.

A RESOLUTION declaring that economic and other relations with Germany are impossible as long as the persecution of Jews in Germany continues, was adopted by the Committee of the Jewish World Conference.

The resolution urges that the boycott should not be abandoned until Jews are restored the full status they enjoyed prior to the Hitler regime.

Jewish organisations in London, at a meeting held last night, passed measures for intensifying the boycott, including the formation of a detective force to watch how tradesmen were carrying it out.

Berlin, Sept. 7.

CHURCH LAW FOR PRUSSIA

To Be Controlled By Nazi

Berlin, Sept. 8.

NAZI dogma will become the Church law for Prussia as a result of the Nazi Church Senate approving the twenty motions adopted by the General Synod.

Seven out of twelve of the general superintendents of the Protestant Church, who voted against the motion to debar non-Aryans or persons married to non-Aryans from holding church office, or preaching have been pensioned off. Other five have been retained pending the appointment of ten bishops. Seven non-Nazi members of the supreme Church Council have also been pensioned off.

A DICTATORSHIP FOR AUSTRIA?

May Be Based On Fascist Lines

Vienna, Sept. 7.

A DICTATORSHIP in Austria, based on Fascist lines, but having no direct connection with the Nazi movement, is now envisaged in Austria.

Prince von Starhemberg, the Austrian Heimwehr leader, broad-casting on his return from Rome, hinted at a change of government in the near future.

He declared himself highly satisfied with the results of his visit to Rome. He was satisfied that Austria could count on unlimited Italian support.

The Prince added he had returned full of enthusiasm for Fascism, which he believed to be the only system suitable for Austria.

A dictatorship under Prince von Starhemberg, or under Major Fey, the Minister of Public Safety, is now being openly mentioned as an alternative to the Dollfuss Government.—Reuter.

IN the Isle of Man to-day the Manx Grand Prix Motor Cycle Race was won at the fastest speed ever reached in an amateur race by H. L. Daniell, on a Norton machine, at 78.98 miles per hour.

J. Swanton was second at 75.9 miles per hour, and J. Muir, third at 75.11 m.p.h. also rode Nortons. Speeds of over 100 miles per hour were reached but riders could only negotiate some of the hair-pin corners at ten miles per hour. The race was contested over a mountain course of 228 miles. Until to-day, the amateur record for the course was 71.9 m.p.h.—British Wireless.

UNREST IN CUBA

Communists Cause Anxiety

Havana, Sept. 7.

THREATS by the Communist leaders in Cuba are giving rise to acute anxiety in Washington and among the American community in Havana.

The Revolutionary Government Council, composed of the leaders of the coup d'etat staged by soldiers, sailors and policemen, who seized control of the army and navy and placed the officers under arrest, announces its willingness to resign if the people desire.

The Communist Central Committee, however, is reported to have agreed to organise resistance to any sort of intervention.

It is stated that they will fire upon the United States forces if they land "in order to show the world that Cuba is not an American colony."

More Warships

Two more destroyers have been ordered to Cuba from Newport and the destroyer Overton, has been ordered to the Isle of Pines where the American Colony fears an outbreak among the two thousand convicts in the model prison there.

Cuban Troops At Havana

New York, Sept. 8.

CUBAN troops have arrived at Havana to deal with Communists who have issued manifestoes to "Down the Government," "Long Live soviet workers, peasants, soldiers and sailors who rise against American imperialism."

Thirty United States warships are proceeding to Havana, while representatives of all political parties, excluding students, have joined a commission to study the national problems. They are discussing the formation of a new government with the revolutionary council.

Marines have built a wireless plant to enable Ambassador Welles to communicate with American warships.

THREAT TO KILL EINSTEIN

Rumours Regarding Secret Society

Brussels, Sept. 8.

FOLLOWING alarmist rumours, elaborate precautions are being taken to protect Professor Einstein from an attempt upon his life.

Ever since his arrival in Belgium, a large force of detectives has been placed on special duty watching his house in Blankenberghe and it is understood that his personal bodyguard has been doubled.

These measures are the consequence of persistent rumours that a leading German secret society have put a price upon the head of Professor Einstein, and it was feared that an attempt would be made upon him in Belgium.

The story of these threats has drawn a prompt denial from Berlin, but nevertheless, the Belgian authorities are taking no chances concerning his safety.

Professor Einstein has it is believed been privately warned of danger and it is reported that he is likely to leave Belgium temporarily and to go for a cruise with friends on a yacht.—Reuter.

GERMAN MINISTER IN MEXICO

Baron von Collenberg is at present on leave and will not return to Shanghai.—Reuter.

BRITISH FUNDS REMAIN FIRM

London, Sept. 7.

British funds kept firm with war loan 3 1/2 per cent, at 100 1/2. Kamms were generally steady. Of the home group motor shares finished appreciably higher.

POINTERS TO A GREAT SEASON

Home Comments On The Trial Games

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, August 20.

Final football trials—they were that in more sense than one—were the order yesterday, and next Saturday England will see the real thing, with every League point of vital import in the great reckoning eight months hence.

TRIM'S FINE FORM

New Full-Back Shines In Arsenal's Trial

The outstanding feature of the second Arsenal trial game at Highbury yesterday was the fine form of Trim at right back for the Whites.

The former Boston player confirmed the good impression made in the first trial by his sound work, giving Hulme little rope, and playing in a manner that showed he will be a capable deputy to Hapgood.

As partner to Trim the Whites had Kirkwood, a young Irishman from Belfast at right back, and after a shaky start he settled down to a sound second half game.

The reserve wingmen also impressed, with Green showing that he is both fast and clever with a strong shot, while in goal Wilson played soundly, although he had one or two lucky escapes.

Other players who impressed were Collett, Stockill, and Parkin. Green and Birkett scored for the Whites, and Coleman (2) for the Reds.

Result:—Whites 3, Reds 2.

ALL WELL IN UNITED CAMP

What The Practice Game Revealed

Manchester United's probable first team, though there may be a change or two for next Saturday's opening match, were defeated by the second string at Old Trafford, where about 9,000 spectators saw an interesting game.

The senior side lost because they failed with two penalty kicks, Dewar kicking the ground and sending the ball slowly to the goalkeeper, and Stewart shooting yards wide of the goal.

Although the seniors lost the game there is no need to be despondent. What is most important is that the second team showed they have a powerful team of youngsters ready to step into the senior side at any moment. It was one of the most pleasing practice games the United have held, and the prospects for the coming season are good.

Heavwood, Hopkinson, and Riddington scored for the second team, the last two goals coming in the closing minutes of the game, while Dewar and McGilvray scored for the Reds.

Hillam the former Burnley goal-keeper, did very well in the Reds goal, and McLennan was outstanding among the half-backs. Of the forwards, McGilvray (Glasgow Celtic), Elme, and Green (Derby County) did well.

NEW MEN PLEASURES

Promising Players At Portsmouth

Portsmouth's three trial matches have been the most encouraging the club have staged for years. Williams, a left wing man from Bournemouth, Wallbanks, a centre-forward from Barnsley, and Nash, an inside right from Charlton, were newcomers who pleased the crowd.

BLIGHT'S HAT-TRICK

Barnsley Discover Youth Of Promise

A feature of Barnsley's final trial was the display of Blight, the youngster from Blackhill who registered a hat-trick.

Strong shooting by Andrews and Smith was another pleasing feature. The game, however, failed to reveal adequate reserve strength.

Andrews, Ashton, and Spence added the other goals for the first team, and Burkinshaw scored for the Reds.

LITLES OF THE CLUB

A season of good results would transform the position, and then the directors would be only too pleased to share their resources with the players.

GREAT FORM OF RISMAN

One Newcomer On View

With the exception of Schofield, the former Old Salfordians' half-back, there were no newcomers in Salford's final practice game at Weaste, which was witnessed by 4,000 spectators. The probable first team, playing as the Stripes, beat the Reds, made up of reserve players, by 40 points to 12.

In the first half the Reds gave a good account of themselves, but in the second portion the Stripes took complete command and scored 23 points without response. All the regular players showed excellent form and Hudson came out after the interval to test his knee.

The try-scorers for the Stripes were Dobing, Feetham, Brown, Jenkins, Middleton, Hudson, Case, well, and Watkins. Risman kicking eight goals. For the Reds, tries were scored by Walker and Pearson. White landing three goals.

The ball was thrown about in spirited fashion, and the game that the club is assured of another proved most enjoyable, indicating successful campaign.

Jenkins showed his old brilliance together with Risman, and the entire team worked together with splendid understanding.

RESERVES BLOW

Derby County Badly Beaten By Second String

It remains a question whether Derby County's regular side of last season is likely to be disturbed at all for the opening of the campaign this, despite the fact that the Reserves playing as Stripes beat this, despite the fact that final public practice match yesterday.

It showed, nevertheless, that the club has a number of excellent reserves, who being allowed plenty of latitude, are displaying more enterprise.

The feature of the White's display was the effective understanding which Crooks, the International wingman, and Hutchinson displayed, and although the shooting was not as reliable as that of the reserves, Wilkes was given some opportunities to show his skill in the goal.

ROCHDALE RECRUITS.

The general impression that Rochdale would have a better season seemed fully justified at the trial match yesterday, both from the standpoint of playing ability and enthusiasm.

There was little to choose between the wingmen, while the forwards generally displayed good understanding. Defects were apparent in the defence. Cairns, the old Leicester player, inside right, proved himself an opportunist, and Butler, at centre half, was good. Welch, in goal, was the most alert custodian.

U.S. TENNIS TITLES

Vines Beaten By Bryan Grant

Forest Hills, Sept. 7.

THE process of dethroning Ellisworth Vines from the position of being the world's best tennis player, actually started by Jack Crawford in Australia last year, was completed to-day, when the holder of the United States title, and former Wimbledon champion, was outclassed and beaten by Bryan M. Grant in the fourth round of the American National Championship.

There has been no bigger sensation in first class tennis since Nigel Sharpe beat Henri Cochet in the first round at Wimbledon in 1931.

Bryan Grant is the smallest player in the tournament, and won through his versatility. He attacked Vines' backhand with mixed chops and volleys. Vines was sluggish and did not play anything like a champion.

Grant, ranked No. 13 in the present American list, and No. 12 and 10, respectively in 1931 and 1932, literally toyed with the tall Californian for three sets, beating him by scores of 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

But this was not the only shock in to-day's programme.

Grant's feat

Jiro Satoh, Wimbledon semi-finalist was eliminated by Gregory Mangin, America's No. 1 player after a five-set match, whilst Adrian Quist, the Australian accomplished his finest performance since leaving Australia nearly this year, by accounting for William Allison, No. 2 ranking player in the States, in straight sets, and with the loss of only six games.

Jack Crawford got through after a stiff two-hour battle with Sydney Wood, who took him to four sets, and fourth games in the final set.

Frank Shields got through comfortably.

WIFE'S HOTEL BILL

Puisne Judge Says
Husband To Pay

"I am satisfied on the evidence that the plaintiff did in fact give credit to the defendant and that she did so owing to the defendant's conduct at the time of the contract," said Mr. Justice Lindell in the Summary Court yesterday when he gave judgment for Mrs. A. E. Osberry for $314.58 in respect of her claim against Mr. A. Wheeler of Messrs. Thos. Cook and Sons. The claim was for board and lodging and refreshments supplied to Mrs. Wheeler at the Palace Hotel. Mr. R. H. Cole of Messrs. Geo. K. Hall Brutton and Company appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. F. H. Loseby, of Messrs. Russ and Company, was for the defendant. Evidence was given yesterday by Mr. Albert Bower, manager of the Palace Hotel, to the effect that when Mrs. Wheeler went to the Hotel to book her room, she was accompanied by her husband.

After evidence had been given by a room boy and a shroff, the case for the plaintiff closed. Mr. Loseby indicated that he would call no evidence for the defence.

Mr. Cole, addressing the Court submitted that Mr. Wheeler took part in the booking of the room and had held himself out as willing to pay.

Mr. Loseby in the course of his address said that the defendant and his wife were living apart. The defendant's attitude was that he never gave his wife authority to pledge his credit either in this case or in any other case.

Mr. Loseby said that the plaintiff knew that the defendant and his wife were living apart and must therefore have known that if the wife was living apart from her husband, she had no authority to pledge his credit unless she was a wronged party. In that case she could only pledge his credit for necessities, and as far as this case was concerned, necessities had gone by the board.

The ledger account, said Mr. Loseby, showed that credit was given to the wife. The defendant took no material part in the booking of the room and moreover, no demand was made by the shroff from Mr. Wheeler until Mrs. Wheeler had left the hotel. There was, no question of "implied authority" in this case as the principle and agent could not both be given joint credit.

Mr. Cole said that it was an extraordinary thing that a husband who separates from his wife should visit her room, have drinks for which she had to sign the bill, and apparently pay.

Mr. Justice Lindell gave judgment for the plaintiff as stated above.

WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Jumps From Star Ferry

While the 11.45 ferry was on its way from Kowloon to Hongkong, last night a well-dressed Chinese woman threw herself overboard from the upper-deck.

Some European passengers who saw the incident but were not in time to stop her, raised the alarm. The vessel was turned and a search made for the woman but she was not seen again.

In a handbag which the woman left behind papers showed her to be Poon Shi, living at 49, Johnston Road, Wanchai.

The police are investigating the motive of the suicide.

Another Attempted Suicide.

There was another attempt at self-destruction earlier in the day when a Chinese woman named Liu Shih-man threw herself from the Yau-mat ferry, Man Cheung. She was rescued by the prompt action of a Chinese seaman named Chung Pang, and her case is now in the care of the S.C.A.

"DEATH BY MISADVENTURE"

Motor Tragedy In Argyle Street Recalled

The circumstances surrounding the death of a Chinese, Kwan Ka Wing, 22, who was knocked down and fatally injured by motor bus No. 687 in the corner of Argyle Street on August 19 were inquired into at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday. Mr. H. R. Butters acted as Coroner and was assisted by a jury comprised of Messrs. F. Norington (foreman), Arthur Smith and Shi Kum Kwai. After hearing the evidence, the jury returned a verdict of "Death by Misadventure."

Dr. J. B. Mackie, medical officer in charge of Kowloon Hospital testified that the deceased was taken to the hospital at 3.20 p.m. on August 19 and died ten minutes later. At the subsequent post-mortem examination it was found that the cause of death was due to rupture of the spleen and internal haemorrhage. The injuries were consistent with his having been knocked down by a motor-car.

Tsui Yung Chang, the driver of the motor bus concerned, said that on the day in question he was proceeding along Shanghai Street towards the Star Ferry. Near Argyle Street there was a stationary bus and he drove past it at about 8 miles per hour. Just as he passed the front of the stationary car, a man suddenly dashed out and was knocked down. He immediately applied the brakes and on getting down from the bus he found the man wedged in the left front wheel. He attempted to extricate him but failed, and then reversed the bus. With the assistance of several people, he took the man into the bus and drove him to the Mongkok Police Station. From there the injured man was taken to the Kowloon Hospital.

After corroborative evidence had been given by the conductor of the bus, Sergeant J. Scrim gave expert evidence. He said that according to the skid made by the application of brakes the bus must have been travelling at the most ten miles per hour, at the time of the accident.

The Coroner, in his summing up, informed the jury that the only witness who saw the accident had gone to the country, and as a result they had to rely on the evidence given by the driver and conductor. Sergeant Scrim had stated that according to the skid the driver was going at the most about 10 miles per hour, and therefore no blame could be attached to him.

Mr. Butters then directed the jury to return the verdict stated above.

WETS WIN IN WASHINGTON

Makes 24th State For Repeal

SEATTLE, Aug. 30.
Conforming to expectations, Washington state yesterday voiced a strong desire "for repeal of the 16th amendment in an election for a state convention to pass on repeal, returns early to-day revealed.

A late count gave the following results:
For repeal, 196,993.
Against, 61,907.

Thus Washington became the 24th state to ratify repeal. No state has yet voted against repeal, making half of the states of the Union now on record as wanting the end of prohibition.

Fourteen more states are scheduled to vote by November 7, including Vermont, Maine, Colorado, Minnesota, Maryland, New Mexico, Virginia, Nebraska, South Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, North Carolina and Utah. Unless the drys show unexpected strength, repeal will be assured by the end of the year.

12 More Needed To Repeal Law.
SEATTLE, Aug. 29.
Washington became the twenty-fourth state to join the unbroken procession toward repeal of the eighteenth amendment, on the basis of incomplete but representative returns from to-day's election.

Reports of the vote from state's 48 legislative districts indicated there was no possibility of serious inroads being made in the wet majority among the 99 delegates who will meet October 3 to ratify formally the decision made by the voters.

Bone dry for nearly two decades, Washington thus joined the solid Pacific Coast wet bloc, California, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona already having favoured repeal.

The votes of but 18 more states are needed to ratify repeal of the national prohibition experiment, 36 being required under the constitution, and 13 already have set dates before the end of the year.

I will venture another prophecy, which doubtless will be equally criticised. Before very long this country will turn out films every bit as good as, and in some cases better than, the very best pictures that are made in Hollywood. That day will come sooner if Mr. Cochran will help us to retain British talent for British films, and provided that British film producers remain British, for as I have already said, international art springs only from a true national expression.

MR. COCHRAN ON THE FILM

are magnificent in their vitality, but films made for the so-called international market have a much lower artistic value. And the transportation of English talent some six thousand miles in order to inject an emasculated English atmosphere into Hollywood films seems to me an obvious folly and a condition of the industry that must largely cease so soon as British film making acquires a certain standard.

One other point: Hollywood does no good to English players in the long run, although they undoubtedly gain a certain slickness in minor technical matters. In the bright sunshine of California the British personalities seem to lose some of their "essence," and to become stereotyped, and to acquire an easy effectiveness, that is less meritorious, artistically considered, than true sincerity. I dare lay claim to some knowledge upon this subject of acting; and I can detect a very marked deterioration in the acting values of certain personalities that have recently visited Hollywood.

Your readers know well, if Mr. Cochran does not, that our films are improving by leaps and bounds. Already the best British pictures are every bit as good as, if not better than, the ordinary American films. Years ago I was criticised for prophesying the present restricted conditions of the English theatre. This was after I had seen the first talking pictures in America and before any were made here.

Hon. Secretary: A. R. Minu.
Hon. Treasurer: R. Nazarin.

Vice-Capt: A. R. Minu.
Capt. 2nd XI: K. Nazarin.
Vice Capt: A. R. Abbas.

Tennis:
Capt: S. A. Rumlajn.
Lawn Bowls.

General Committee: A. T. Barma, Natha Singh, D. Rumlajn, A. M. Wahab, M. A. Khan, Dr. H. el Arculli, A. K. Minu, A. Rahmin, A. G. Sufiad, J. S. Abdul Curcum, M. R. Abbas and Mr. Y. Adal.

REPORT FOR 1932-3

The report of the committee for the season 1932-33, is as follows:—

The year under review was not as successful as the season before. The Club lost all the four Shields it had won in Cricket and Tennis, but Members need not be disheartened as all the teams we entered put up a sporting fight in every department. We hope to do better next year, especially in Cricket, in which department the Club has great faith in its younger Members.

After many years, the Club entered a team in the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls League, but it has not been very successful so far, having won but one game throughout the season. However, the players have gained a great deal of valuable experience, and should be able to give a very much better account of themselves next year. We wish them the best of luck.

Membership:—Owing to several factors, we lost many Members during the year, which closed with 2 Honorary Members, 4 Life Members, 16 Associate Members, 10 Absent Members, 2 Temporary Members, and 108 Ordinary Members, making a total of 142 as compared with last year's total of 198.

Deaths:—It is with great regret that we have to record the death of Mr. Omar Ismail, one of our keenest cricketers, at a comparatively early age. Mr. Ismail had been a member of our 1st XI for a good number of years, and his absence from the field will be greatly missed. We take this opportunity of expressing our sympathy towards his widow and family. The Club has also lost a great friend in the person of the late Mr. O. Kitchell, to whose family we also wish to express our sympathy.

Finance:—The Working Account shows a deficit of $38.65.

Towards the end of the year, the Committee appointed a Finance Sub-Committee to devise ways and means whereby the Club funds could be augmented, and it was decided by this Sub-Committee to make several recommendations to the General Committee, one of which was to organise a Membership Campaign. Our membership is not sufficient, and it is to be hoped that the Campaign will continue.

Cricket:—Both our 1st and 2nd XI's tried very hard to capture the Senior and Junior Shields for the third year in succession, but found the task too difficult for them. The 1st XI were engaged in seven League matches, of which they won five and lost two, while of the nine League matches the 2nd XI were engaged in, they won only five, drew one and lost three. They were given a walk-over in another.

Mr. A. R. Minu headed the Batting Averages in the 1st XI for the first time in his career with 16.28, and Mr. A. H. Madar was runner-up with 15.66. These figures will show the weakness of our batting which was caused to a big extent by the unsuitability of the pitch for practice. In the bowling department, Mr. F. D. Pereira once again headed the averages, taking 38 wickets for only 6.15 runs apiece. Mr. A. R. Minu followed up his batting performances by taking 31 wickets during the year for 6.88 runs each.

The 2nd XI batting was headed by Mr. F. M. el Arculli with 24.00, while Mr. M. P. Madar, in his rare appearances, registered an average of 21.50. Mr. A. M. Rumlajn proved himself a tower of strength in the bowling by returning an average of 6.65, and Mr. A. R. Sufiad was a worthy runner up with 7.14.

Sunday League:—The Sunday Cricket League was again a boon to many of our cricketers who had not enjoyed a place in any of the Club's regular teams. Competition was not as keen as the year before owing to the one-sidedness of some of the games, but nevertheless all the matches proved most enjoyable. The Shield presented for competition by Messrs. Harry Wicking and Co. was won by the "Incogs," of which Mr. F. D. Pereira was skipper.

Tennis:—The loss of Mr. C. A. L. Rumlajn, who returned to Tientsin, was a serious handicap to the Club. Without his support, we failed to retain either of the "A" Division or the Dunlop (Mixed Doubles) Shields. We were runners-up in both these divisions, to the Chinese R. C. in the former and to the United Services Recreation Club in the latter.

The Committee congratulates Mr. S. A. Rumlajn on winning the Open Singles Championship of the Colony for the third time in his career and the second in successive years; Mr. J. A. Cassumhoy on being runner-up; and Messrs. S.A. and H. D. Rumlajn on their wonderful record of carrying off the Doubles Championship of the Colony for the ninth year in succession.

Lawn Bowls:—The Lawn Bowls green, which was formerly situated close to the nullah, was early in the year removed to the north-western side of the ground. We have to thank Mr. B. A. Hyder for the amount of trouble and time he has devoted to the green.

During the 1933 bowls season, we put in a team in the Second Division. Most of our representatives were playing in a League match for the first time and therefore lacked experience. They are, however, showing signs of improvement, and some play of high standard was seen in the Club's tournaments.

Ground:—The ground was in a rather poor condition immediately after the alterations to the lawn bowls green and the cricket pitch as the turf took sometime to grow properly, but as a result of the untiring efforts of Messrs. B. A. Hyder, A. R. Minu and S. A. R. Ismail, it is now in fairly good shape.

RESERVE BANK FOR INDIA

Capital As Private Holding

The report of the Committee on Indian Reserve Bank Legislation was issued last month, and in a memorandum accompanying it the Secretary for India (Sir Samuel Hoare) states that "its prime purpose is to facilitate the drafting of the Reserve Bank Bill which will, in all probability, be submitted to the Indian Legislature in September, with a view to its possible passage into law later in the year."

The report is virtually unanimous. The Committee fully accept the principle that the Reserve Bank should be free from political influence, and recommends that the capital of the bank should be held by private shareholders, and should be divided into five (unequal) portions, to be offered for subscription by persons resident in the five areas into which it is proposed to divide India and Burma.

While it proposes that no shareholder should be allowed more than ten votes, it does not propose any limitation on the amount of capital to be held by any one shareholder.

500 Rupee Shares.

The shares would be in the denominations of 500rs., with two shares as the minimum voting qualification. There would be limitations on the dividend.

The Board of the Bank should be as small as practicable, the majority of the directors deriving their mandate from the shareholders. A minority, however, would be nominated by the Governor-General in Council.

Should an election result in certain important elements in the economic life, such as agricultural, (Continued on next column) interests, failing to secure representation, is proposed that the Board should be composed of eight directors representing the shareholders, four nominated by the Governor-General in Council, one governor, one deputy governor with no voting power, and one officer of Government, also without voting power.

To secure the eight directors representing shareholders, India would be divided into five areas. Shareholders in each area would elect members of a local board and these would select directors to represent them on the central board. The Western, Eastern, and Northern areas would each hold two seats on the central board, and the Southern and Burma areas one seat each.

It is explained that although Burma may be separated from India it is assumed that she will continue to utilise the Indian currency system.

No London Branch.

The establishment of a London branch of the bank would be optional instead of obligatory as under the 1928 Bill. But should the bank employ the Bank of England as its agent in London, the Committee contemplate that the Bank of England would reciprocate by employing the reserve bank as its agent in India.

It is further recommended that the original share capital of the bank should be five crores of rupees fully paid.

There would be separate issue and banking departments, as in the case of the Bank of England.

As to the exchange obligations of the bank, the Committee consider that the only sound course for India in the present state of monetary disorganisation throughout the world is to remain on the sterling standard.

The Committee were, however, agreed that the whole question of the monetary standard best suited to India would have to be reviewed when the international monetary position had clarified itself.

Meanwhile, it also recommends the continuance of the present practice of prescribing upper and lower limits of exchange fluctuation.
